INTERNATIONAL MARKETING. - FRANCIS. CHERUNILAM 2016

International Marketing - Philip R. Cateora 2015

Business Operations in Israel - Amnon Rafael 1990

International Marketing - Richard Fletcher 2016-10-07

Global thinking, local relevance! International Marketing is a ground-up Australian text which has a unique and relevant perspective on the subject: looking through the lens of Australian and New Zealand export firms working with international partners as well as Asian businesses looking into Australia. By keeping local business students and their future careers in mind, Fletcher and Crawford make it easier to identify with and apply the concepts. The text takes a practical approach which clearly outlines the links between three different stages of marketing: connecting analysis with planning, planning with strategy and strategy with implementation. Each chapter analyses a range of firms operating in ever-changing international markets, including small and medium scale enterprises (SMEs) and local subsidiaries of multinational enterprises (MNEs). The new 7th edition has been comprehensively updated and features a remarkable range of new, in-depth case studies, industry highlights and diverse business examples that bring the subject to life.

International Marketing: Winning in the New Global Economy (Preliminary Edition) Christopher L. Myers 2021-01-05

International Marketing: Winning in the New Global Economy introduces students to scholarship and insight that are critical for the success of modern international marketers and business professionals. The opening chapter examines the current state of the global economy, taking into account the political, societal, and economic changes, most recently due to the COVID-19 crisis, that have impacted individuals, business, and the ways in which we work. Additional chapters explore historical events and issues that have shaped the global economy in the new millennium, contemporary trade theories, and the far-reaching impacts of technology, social media, and media. Students consider the pursuit of localization before globalization, analyze the effects of political unrest on international marketing, and learn about trade credit financing instruments. Supply chain logistics and management, international marketing research, personal and cultural factors in global business, and global branding and marketing are covered. The closing chapters survey key international organizations and review key takeaways. International Marketing is an ideal textbook for courses in global business, marketing, and leadership.

Global Negotiation - William Hernández Requejo 2014-12-02

Each year American executives make nearly eight million trips overseas for international business. In the process, they leave billions of dollars on the negotiation table. Global Negotiation provides critical tools to help businesspeople save money (and face) when negotiating across cultural divides. Drawing on their more than 50 combined years of experience, as well as extensive field research with over 2000 business people in 21 different cultures, John L. Graham and William Hernández Requejo have discovered how to create long-lasting commercial relationships around the world. The authors provide a rare combination of practical insight and illuminating anecdotes, and offer examples from well-known companies such as Toyota, Ford, Intel, AT&T, Rockwell, Boeing, and Wal-Mart.

In Defense of Globalization - Jagdish Bhagwati 2007-09-04

In the passionate debate that currently rages over globalization, critics have been heard blaming it for a host of ills afflicting poorer nations, everything from child labor to environmental degradation and cultural homogenization. Now Jagdish Bhagwati, the internationally renowned economist, takes on the critics, revealing that globalization, when properly governed, is in fact the most powerful force for social good in the world today. Drawing on his unparalleled knowledge of international and development economics, Bhagwati explains why the "gotcha" examples of the critics are often not as compelling as they seem. With the wit and wisdom for which he is renowned, Bhagwati convincingly shows that globalization is part of the solution, not part of the problem. This edition features a new afterword by the author, in which he counters recent writings by prominent journalist Thomas Friedman and the Nobel Laureate economist Paul Samuelson and argues that current anxieties about the economic implications of globalization are just as unfounded as were the concerns about its social effects.

The International Marketing of Travel and Tourism - François Vellas 2016-01-07

Tourism marketing has long been considered as a branch of traditional marketing. However, in recent years, tourism marketing has gone through fundamental changes: the pursuit of global strategies based on strategic alliances, the breakdown of commercial borders and advances in new technology have all facilitated the commercialisation of tourism products. This book sets out to examine the changes shaping the international marketing of tourism and travel. The book begins in defining the role of international marketing in tourism and describes the strategic marketing process, from analysis and strategy formulation to implementation techniques. It provides the marketing theory for the rest of the text. Part two focuses on specific issues that are currently influencing tourism marketing. As such, it explains how technology is affecting the way tourism firms operate, the impact and influence of environmental awareness, human resource strategy and service quality on tourism marketing. Finally, it presents the strategic responses of each of the sub-sectors - hospitality, air transport, tour operation, travel agency and the tourism destination - to the pressures of the changing tourism industry. The International Marketing of Travel and Tourism is aimed at final year undergraduate and postgraduate students of tourism providing a strategic approach to marketing within this growing sector.

Ethics and Airbus - Peter Schulz 2008-08-21

Project Report from the year 2007 in the subject Business economics - Business Ethics, Corporate Ethics, grade: 85%, Macquarie University (Graduate Accounting and Commerce Centre), course: Veranstaltung International Marketing (post-graduate unit), 34 entries in the bibliography, language: English, abstract: This report examines Airbus, one of two major players in the global aircraft manufacturing industry. Recent findings indicate that Airbus might have showed unethical business behavior in convincing customers to purchase its aircraft. After presenting and analyzing these allegations and updating potentially unethical conduct by Airbus to the present day, this report continues to discuss the topic of ethics in general. It is then elaborated how ethics are applied within the aircraft manufacturing industry by its two main players Boeing and Airbus. Following this, tools such as a PESTLE analysis and a SWOT analysis of Airbus are presented. Based on the findings of these analyses, recommendations for Airbus are formulated and examined with regard to practicability and feasibility aspects. Recommendations will be divided into short-, medium- and long-term strategies. Finally, this report will conclude by summarizing the findings and giving an outlook to Airbus' position in the global marketplace.
